

I would like to comment on the challenge of the Indiana phone privacy act by the Consumer's Banking Association to the FCC. The challenge is that the CBA would like to be able to contact customer's by phone in solicitation.

I disagree with the concerns of the CBA. I signed up for the phone privacy act to keep ALL solicitations from reaching my phone. Therefore as an Indiana homeowner, I would ask that the FCC deny the CBA the right to make the phone calls that they are requesting.

Thank You
